

Sons of Former Local Folks to Broadcast Over Radio

According to an item taken from the Salem (Ohio) paper, of recent date, local folks will be given an opportunity at 4 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, October 22, of hearing the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Freed and Mr. and Mrs. William Sproat broad-

Mrs. Freed as well as Mrs. Sproat are former residents of this place and the broadcasting program at the time indicated will hold a lot of interest for local friends of the former residents. Following is the item taken from the Salem paper, 'which very nicely describes the nature of the broadcast given by the 125-voice Boys' choir of Salem and East Liverpool, of which organization the three sons of Mr. and Mrs. Freed—Charles Freed, Jr., Al. J. Freed and Don Freed—and "Billy" Sproat, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Sproat, are members:

"The 125-voice Boys' choir of Salem and East Liverpool, the largest organized group of volunteer singers in the country—will be heard in a half-hour broadcast from KDKA studios at 4 P. M. Sunday, Oct. 22

"Under the direction of Robert Lippert, the choir recently returned from Chicago, where the World's fair management booked the singers for one engagement and then held them over for five concerts.

The boys range in age from 8 to 18 years, and none is paid. Their motto is, 'Sing for the Glory of God.' The program on KDKA will be made up of both sacred and secular songs."
