Honorable Mr. Stone:

The Federal Communications Commission informed me that you could be of some help to me. Mr. Waple stated in the letter that you prosecuted Mr. Alan Freed in 1963 for violation of the Commercial Bribery Statute of New York State.

According to Time Magazine for May 21, 1965, Alan Freed was convicted for receiving payola from 6 record companies. Sir, could you please tell me which six companies paid him off? Also, I noticed in a 1959 Time Magazine that originally 11 companies were involved. Would you happen to have access to the names of these 11 companies?

In 1946, a record company was established in New York by the name of Challenge Records. Would you happen to have the directors of that company available?

Thanking you in advance for your time and consideration, I am

Sincerely yours,

David A. Noebel
