M. Guy Isnard
Ministry of the Interior
General Direction of the Nation Security
60 Boulevard Gouvion
St. Cyr
Paris 17, France

Dear M. Isnard:

This office is preparing for the trial of a defendant on the charge of commercial bribery.

In our preparation for trial we have uncovered the name of a man who would be able to supply us with vital information. His name is Stewart Barthelless. M. Barthelless is not a defendant, nor is he wanted in this country for any crime. This office merely wishes to ask him a few questions which only he can answer.

Reliable information supplied to us indicates that M. Barthelless left this country in May or June 1959, and with his wife went to your city - Paris. We have reason to believe that he is still in Paris.

May we once again impose on the good graces of your office to check the files of aliens living in Paris to determine if M. Stewart Barthelless was a resident, or is a resident, his present address, or forwarding address if he has left.

This office would be most grateful and indebted for whatever immediate assistance you and your good office might render.

We would feel most honoured if we could serve you in any capacity at some future date.

Sincerely yours,

Richard Allan
Assistant District Attorney
