

CELEBRITIES' ARTICLES GO ON BLOCK

Like to have a fountain pen from Bing Crosby? One of Shirley Temple's handkerchiefs? Or maybe the fitted picnic hamper held by Alan Freed, center, and given by noted educator Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler? You can bid for these and scores of other gifts at a celebrity auction at 8 p. m. next Monday. Ohio Alpha Lambda chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, business girl's sorority, is conducting the affair. Freed will be auctioneer and the program will be held in WAKR's studios in the Tower building. Helping Freed with arrangements are Mrs. Catherine Brown, left, of 332 Carroll st., and Miss Lois Finney, 405 Brecht ct. The auction money will go to Brecksville Veterans hospital.