

Freed Premieres 'Wax Works'

'Clock' Series Bases

Drama On Old Legend

AGITATION BY the bobby-soxers may have something to do with today's announcement from WAKR. At least, Alan Freed is returning to the air with a new record show tonight at 9. The teeners have been howling since his daytime show was canceled. He'll make with the music and chatter for a full hour. He's titled the stint "Wax Works."

Scheduling of the show eliminates the half-hour of Vincent Lopez music and the situation-comedy program starring Eddie Albert, formerly heard.

Freed's night-time "Request Review" was extended recently to 12:30 a. m. with the cancelling of a program of dance music from a downtown hotel.
